

Team-SEMAT

February 2023

Contributors:

Oliver Lindblad, Alexander Binett, Rabi Hanna, Hasti Mohebbali Zadeh, Kaan Uçar

SEMAT: Team Evaluation

The "Seeded" state has been passed based on the relevant points in the checklist for the state. The composition of the team is defined since the skills of the team members, and the size of the team is known. How the work is carried out is limited by the fact that the team consist of five members which makes it necessary to work through collaborative tools such as GitHub and communication channels. Where the work is carried out has to be decided with every members schedule in mind since everyone has different courses and can not always be present. The responsibility of each member will be to reassure that the given requirement is implemented and working correctly.

For the "Formed" state, the team struggled for a few days to understand the assignment's scope, hence, it took a little while for some of the team members to understand their individual responsibilities.

Additionally, for the "Collaborating" and "Performing" states, the group had met up regularly in person and remotely to communicate, discuss the process and work at the same time. Also, the team members know each other and were focused on achieving the team mission.